

Time capsule

To whom discovers this,

My name is Taya (Téah) and I am 12. I am Japanese.

The Eureka stockade has just finished. My mother bought a convenience store so when the Eureka stockade started me and my parents ran into the store. We were safe but many people died. They should be considered heroes because now we have rights to vote. Many of my friends died.

We are a wealthy family back in Japan we are considered a family of Gods. We own a Japanese palace and people will worship us. We always got nice food and clothes. See in the mine fields we had to eat mutton which is old lamb and also we had old bread. It was gross! But the clothes I had to wear was actually pretty nice. It was a beautiful frilly dress.

To whoever finds this note, I hope you can get people to learn about the Eureka stockade and how horrible it was.
